Regarding donations to the Trygve Lie Gallery Cultural Fund The Norwegian Seamen's Church in New York

Introduction

The Trygve Lie Gallery Cultural Fund is a project of the Norwegian Seamen's Church in New York, with the goal of establishing a fund to support Norwegian cultural activity in New York. The Norwegian Seamen's Church is in many ways New York's 'Norwegian Cultural Center'. Therefore, this project, undertaken in January 2006 by Eirik Fluge, Director of Cultural Programs and the Trygve Lie Gallery at the Norwegian Seamen's Church, and Hans-Petter Henschien, Managing Director in Henschien Insurance Services AS, was initiated. Monies from this fund shall be designated, in particular, for exhibitions in the Trygve Lie Gallery, but also for other programs and events in the Norwegian Church's public spaces, such as concerts, theatrical performances, seminars, films and lectures. For more information on the Cultural Fund see the document 'Culture Fund Proposal - Trygve Lie Gallery'.

What do donor/participants get?

First and foremost they get the opportunity to contribute financially to the promotion of Norwegian culture in New York. Also – if they wish – they will be listed together with other contributors on our website, on invitations, programs and so forth. And last, but not least, they will receive an invitation to the launching event for the cultural fund with a grand concert and an opening reception for a special exhibition taking place Friday Sept. 14, 2007 in New York. We should mention though that the donors will have to pay their own expenses for travel to and lodging in New York.
